Analyze the way Minerva treats Senor Mirabal’s mistress and her four daughters. Does Minerva’s kindness toward her half-sisters add to our understanding of her character? If so, how? Why does Minerva want to make education a possibility for them? 2. Further examine the theme of courage in the novel. While Minerva Mirabal may be considered more outwardly brave, how is each sister courageous in her own way? 3. The portions of the book written from Patria Mirabal’s point of view deal with religious themes and include many biblical allusions. How does Patria develop from an idealistic young Catholic girl to a woman who doubts? When does this change occur? Can it be argued that her faith is stronger in the end, even though she has some serious religious doubts? 4. Why might Alvarez have chosen not to write from the point of view of any of the men? For this essay, explore two of the male characters – whether Senor Mirabal or the Mirabal sisters’ husbands – and discover how important they are to the underground rebellion. 5. Expanding on the question of historical fiction, choose two scenes from the novel and research their historical veracity. Whether or not they are historically accurate, how effective is Alvarez in her quest to write “the truth according to character?” (RL.9-10.1-7, W.9-10.2, W.9-10.4, W.9-10.9, SL.9-10.1) Global Awareness Lessons <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Standard #

- RL.9-10.1. Cite strong and thorough textual evidence to support analysis of what the text says explicitly as well as inferences drawn from the text.
- RL.9-10.2. Determine a theme or central idea of a text and analyze in detail its development over the course of the text, including how it emerges and is shaped and refined by specific details; provide an objective summary of the text.
- RL.9-10.3. Analyze how complex characters (e.g., those with multiple or conflicting motivations) develop over the course of a text, interact with other characters, and advance the plot or develop the theme.
- RL.9-10.4. Determine the meaning of words and phrases as they are used in the text, including figurative and connotative meanings; analyze the cumulative impact of specific word choices on meaning and tone (e.g., how the language evokes a sense of time and place; how it sets a formal or informal tone).
- RL.9-10.5. Analyze how an author's choices concerning how to structure a text, order events within it (e.g., parallel plots), and manipulate time (e.g., pacing, flashbacks) create such effects as mystery, tension, or surprise.
- RL.9-10.6. Analyze a particular point of view or cultural experience reflected in a work of literature from outside the United States, drawing on a wide reading of world literature.
- RL.9-10.7. Analyze the representation of a subject or a key scene in two different artistic mediums, including what is emphasized or absent in each treatment
- RL.9-10.9. Analyze how an author draws on and transforms source material in a specific work
- RL.9-10.10. By the end of grade 9, read and comprehend literature, including stories, dramas, and poems, in the grades 9–10 text complexity band proficiently, with scaffolding as needed at the high end of the range.

Global Awareness Lessons

- Research a number of important events in South Africa’s history, such as the Sharpeville Massacre and the Soweto riots. Have students prepare a time line of recent South African history, beginning with the Sharpeville Massacre of 1960. Tell students to research news magazines, newspapers, and the Internet to extend their time line up to the present.
- Have students research a black South African ethnic group, such as the Zulu, Xhosa, Tsonga, Venda, or Swazi. Students then write a research paper in which they describe the history, customs, beliefs, and other aspects of the group’s culture.
- Have students investigate apartheid and the life and work of one of the famous anti-apartheid leaders, such as Steve Biko, Nelson Mandela, or Robert Sobukwe. Students then write a biographical sketch of the person, telling how he or she hoped to bring down apartheid.
- Students choose the setting of one short story read during the unit, and research the historical context of the story and current events happening in that part of the world. Students can create a presentation tool of their choosing that shows understanding of the historical context and references to reliable sources.

Reading Literature, Argument Writing

Seminar: Do you agree or disagree with this statement? "It is possible to understand this piece of literature outside of its historical context." (Teachers choose the work.) In an organized argument, use textual evidence from the work as well as from historical or reference works to support your position. Your teacher may give you the opportunity to share your initial thoughts on the classroom blog in order to get feedback from your classmates. (RL.9-10. 1-7, W.9-10.1, W.9-10.5, W.9-10.6, W.9-10.7, L.9-10.6)

Reading Poetry, Performance

Choose a poem that you have read in this unit and recite it from memory. Include an introduction that discusses:

Who wrote the poem and when it was written (i.e., historical context)

How the form of the poem and its meaning are related

Record your recitation using a video camera so you can evaluate your performance for accuracy. (RL.9-10.2, SL.9-10.4, SL.9-10.6)

Language Mechanics

Read a classmate’s draft essay for one of the activities listed above. Discuss which changes might improve the quality of the writing. Students use editing guide stemming from Common Core Standards.

Reading Literature, Informational Writing

- Identify three characteristics of a Greek tragedy that Antigone displays. Support your answer with details from the text.
- Explain Antigone and Creon’s tragic flaw. To what extent do these flaws lead to their downfalls? To what extent are their downfalls due to fate? Who is the true tragic hero of this play?
- What does Brutus mean when he says, “My heart doth joy that yet in all my life/ I found no man but he was try to me”? Do these lines express a positive attitude or blindness toward others? Explain.
- Using the definition of a tragic hero, which character has more characteristics of Shakespeare’s tragic heroes? Support your answer with details from the text.
- Compare and contrast Cassius and Brutus. Give specific examples in support of your points. Find examples that show that the two men are foils. What do the differences between the two help to emphasize about Brutus’ character?
- What is the relationship between a person’s individual faults and his or her abilities as a leader? Use character examples from the play.
- How does the author portray the major themes in the play? Use textual support.
- Answer critical thinking questions for deeper understanding from William Shakespeare’s Julius Caesar (<http://us.penguin.com/static/pdf/teachersguides/caesar.pdf>).

(RL.9-10.2,3,6 - W.9-10.1,2,4,5 – L.9-10.1,2,3,6)

Research and Technology

Create an advertising poster for a historically accurate performance of Julius Caesar. Include an illustration and appropriate text that capture the essence of the performance. Conduct research to find information about the following:

- The design of ancient Roman theater
- The costumes
- The actors: were they men or women or both?

Include information to attract spectators’ interest in the play, such as enticing details about the plot. Create an appropriate and appealing presentation.

(SL.9-10.1,2,3,4,5,6)

Language Usage

Read a classmate’s draft essay for one of the activities listed above. Discuss which changes might improve the quality of the writing. Students use editing guide stemming from Common Core Standards.

(L.9-10.1,2,3,4,5,6)

Reading Literature, Speaking and Listening

Have students watch performance of Brutus’ and Antony’s funeral speeches. As a class, discuss the persuasive techniques used and which speech was most effective.

- RL.9-10.1: Cite strong and thorough textual evidence to support analysis of what the text says explicitly as well as inferences drawn from the text.
- RL.9-10.2: Determine a theme or central idea of a text and analyze in detail its development over the course of the text, including how it emerges and is shaped and refined by specific details; provide an objective summary of the text.
- RL.9-10.3: Analyze how complex characters (e.g. those with conflicting motivations) develop over the course of a text, interact with other characters, and advance the plot or develop the theme.
- RL.9-10.4: Determine the meaning of words and phrases as they are used in the text, including figurative and connotative meanings; analyze the cumulative impact of specific word choices on meaning and tone (e.g., how the language evokes a sense of time and place; how it sets a formal or informal tone).
- RL.9-10.6: Analyze a particular point of view or cultural experience reflected in a work of literature from outside the United States, drawing on a wide reading of world literature.
- R.L.9-10.7: Analyze the representation of a subject or a key scene in two different artistic mediums, including what is emphasized or absent in each treatment.
- R.L.9-10.9: Analyze how an author draws on and transforms source material in a specific work.
- RI.9-10.1: Cite strong and thorough textual evidence to support analysis of what the text says explicitly as well as inferences drawn from the text.
- RI.9-10.2: Determine a central idea of a text and analyze its development over the course of the text, including how it emerges and is shaped and refined by specific details; provide an objective summary of the text.
- RI.9-10.5: Analyze in detail how an author's ideas or claims are developed and refined by particular sentences, paragraphs, or larger portions of a text (e.g., a section or chapter).
- RI.9-10.4: Determine the meaning of words and phrases as they are used in a text, including figurative, connotative, and technical meanings; analyze the cumulative impact of specific word choices on meaning and tone
- RI.9-10.8: Delineate and evaluate the argument and specific claims in a text, assessing whether the reasoning is valid and the evidence is relevant and sufficient; identify false statements and fallacious reasoning.
- RI.9-10.9: Analyze seminal U.S. documents of historical and literary significance, including how they address related themes and concepts
- RI.9-10.10: Read and comprehend literary nonfiction in the grades9-10 text complexity band proficiently, with scaffolding as needed at the high end of the range.

Subgroup: Writing

- W.9-10.1: Write arguments to support claims in an analysis or substantive topics or texts, using valid reasoning and relevant and sufficient evidence
- W.9-10.2: Write informative/explanatory texts to examine and convey complex ideas, concepts, and information clearly and accurately through the effective selection, organization, and analysis of content.
- W.9-10.4: Produce clear and coherent writing in which the development, organization, and style are appropriate to task, purpose, and audience. (Grade-specific expectations for writing types are defined in standards 1–3 above.)
- W.9-10.5: Develop and strengthen writing as needed by planning, revising, editing, rewriting, or trying a new approach, focusing on addressing what is most significant for a specific purpose and audience. (Editing for conventions should demonstrate command of Language standards 1–3 up to and including grades 9–10 on page 54.)
- W.9-10.6: Use technology, including the Internet, to produce, publish, and update individual or shared writing products, taking advantage of technology’s capacity to link to other information and to display information flexibly and dynamically.
- W.9-10.9: Draw evidence from literary or informational texts to support analysis, reflection, and research.

Subgroup: Speaking and Listening

- SL.9-10.1: Initiate and participate effectively in a range of collaborative discussions with diverse partners on grades 9-10 topics, texts, and issues, building on others’ ideas and expressing their own clearly and persuasively
- SL.9-10.2: Integrate multiple sources of information presented in diverse media or formats, evaluating the credibility and accuracy of each source
- SL.9-10.3: Evaluate a speaker’s point of view, reasoning, and use of evidence and rhetoric, identifying any fallacious reasoning or exaggerated or distorted evidence
- SL.9-10.4: Present information, findings, and supporting evidence clearly, concisely, and logically such that listeners can follow the line of reasoning and the organization, development, substance, and style are appropriate to purpose, audience, and task.
- SL.9-10.5: Make strategic use of digital media in presentations to enhance understandings of findings, reasoning, and evidence and to add interest.
- SL.9-10.6: Adapt speech to a variety of contexts and tasks, demonstrating command of formal English when indicated or appropriate. (See grades 9–10 Language standards 1 and 3 on pages 54 for specific expectations.)

Subgroup: Language
